Flames Destroy Edmonton Home After Explosion

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. McArdy Rushed to Hospital Suffering From Shock and Burns—House at 10232 109 Street Total Wreck

A livid sheet of flame, a deafening crash that rolled across the city pattering out to a dull roar, and a happy home was totally wrecked, when a gas explosion at 8:20 Saturday evening split wide the house of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McArdy, 10232 109 street, and smashed windows in other houses in the vicinity.

The injured, Andrew J. McArdy and his wife, Margaret McArdy, ages 60 and 53 respectively were rushed to the hospital immediately, suffering from extreme shock and severe burns. Reports from the Royal Alexandra hospital this afternoon indicated that the couple stood an even chance of recovery from their injuries, provided that no complications set in.

The explosion is said by the department officials to have been caused by a broken gas pipe leading off the main near the sidewalk. However no official report has yet been made by the fire marshal.

SAN FRANCISCO RESPONSIBLE

According to the company officials who came to inspect the damage after the explosion, the accident is attributable indirectly to repairs which were made to the gas system of the house. When the repairs were made a length of "gas gas" was cut from the pipe to get at the water pipe which is being replaced. This caused the bursting of the work the trench sub-siding some 31 inches, causing the gas pipe to burst, which in turn caused the leak which led to the explosion.

"We were told that the work which was done by the plumbers if this had not been done before the gas pipe was left safe. As it is the support was taken away from the pipe and it bent, causing a break right at the service rock, said a gas company official.

Nationalists Score In German Voting

Associated Press Cable

HAMBURG, Sept. 27.—

Sweeping gains by Adolf Hitler's National Socialist party and by the Communists were registered in the German election here coincided with the regulations of the League of Nations to prohibit cooperation by heads of French and German governments at the League.

The National Socialists polled 302,465 votes, up from 170,000 in the 1928 Reichstag election, and 14,766 in the 1924 Reichstag election.

WEAKNESS DENIED.

Mistress of Finance Felix Hahn said Sweden would restore the gold standard as soon as the time was permitted and that the suspension should not be regarded as a sign of weakness.

He said the government decided to drop the gold standard until Nov. 30 unless conditions should change favorably.

He said the gold standard was the National Bank discount rate from six per cent to eight per cent. The export of gold was prohibited by the Riksbank, or by foreign exchange.

MONTDAY, SEPTEMBER 28

MAKE IT A TWO-WAY ROAD

A motor-tourist does not retrieve his "steps" if he can make the return journey over the alternative road, but it will not involve too much travelling and loss of time. As he is out to "see the country," he naturally prefers to see as much of it as possible in the limited time at his disposal and within the limits of the amount of money he is prepared to spend in the outing.

That is a well-recognized fact, which the people of Edmonton, of Saskatoon, and of central Alberta, and of eastern Saskatchewan, would have been well aware of, and which the people of western Canada generally should think about, in reference to the Trans-Canada highway. As now proposed, the highway will be beyond reasonable doubt a "one-way" road.

What will happen, the individual can pretty well determine for himself by reflecting upon what he is most likely to do if he makes a trip to the Coast over the Trans-Canada. The other side of the coin of course comes back to the individual, however excellent the road and however much he may enjoy the mountain scenery. He will want to take another way home, because it would take him through different roads.

As matters stand, the only alternative route to the Trans-Canada across the prairies and the mountains will be one of the highways, the other of which is the international boundary. In the normal course of things the tourist who goes west over the Trans-Canada will return east over a United States highway. And those who make the round trip will be the Trans-Canada will follow a United States highway west.

The large meaning of this is that, if the Trans-Canada offers only one route across the prairies and the mountains, it will offer only half the attractions to the motor tourist that it could offer, and will be only half the value to the people of Canada, who are to pay for the road. The return trips in both directions will be made through the United States, and United States business centres and service stations will get the money.

To give the Trans-Canada a chance to offer the two west and of full advantage to Canada, there should be an alternative route through the mountains and across the prairie provinces; offering the Canadian motorist an opportunity to make the trip through different roads, all in our own country, and offering the motorist from abroad an opportunity to explore Canada over two thousand miles of highway instead of one thousand.

The Trans-Canada, if the road could be provided by building some two hundred miles of new highway, in addition to that already built and that now under contract, there is a gap between Battleford and the southern end of the main length between the present end of the highway west from Edmonton and Jasper Park. With those two gaps bridged there would be a continuous motor road from Red Deer, Saskatchewan, to Edmonton, while the linking of Jasper with Kamloops is now under way.

That would make the Trans-Canada a "two-way" road system from the capital of Saskatchewan to Kamloops, the motorist making the trip in one direction over one route would return by the other, seeing twice as much of Canada and spending their holiday money in Canada; instead of doing half their travelling and spending half their money in the United States.

That is not a matter of concern only to Edmontonians, but to all those located along this alternative route. It is, however, a matter of concern to the taxpayers of Canada, since the development of tourist traffic in Canada and over Canadian roads is the chief benefit they can derive from the most important feature of the Trans-Canada enterprise. Upon that, as upon other grounds, the Dominion Government would be curiously short-sighted if it refused to accept the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan in bringing in the two main groups and thus providing the Trans-Canada with this alternative loop through the heart of these two provinces.

EXTEND THE P. G. E.?

From Tolmie, it is planned at Vancouver that the plan to extend the G. E. railway to the Peace River block, as a relief work project, with assistance from the Dominion Government. That the Dominion will agree to the scheme does not necessarily follow, in fact, hardly seems probable.

It is to be said for the proposal that the P. G. E. is almost an impossible concern, with the prospect whatever exists of getting a saving up to the tune of £1,000,000. And if it could be turned into a useful and less burdensome enterprise by extending it, this is undoubtedly the time to do the work.

The one considerable variable in the problem of giving the Peace River district the direct outlet to the Coast for which it has been asking for many years, and would on this consideration be altogether to the good, is the view of the public which, while giving a generous measure of Dominion assistance to the project, and taking some risk as to the ultimate ability of the railway to pay its way.

FACING THE ISSUE

In the midst of the trouble and anxiety the people of Great Britain are given one word of encouragement by their Government, the announcement that for the week ending September 30th, there were 11,500 fewer unemployed people in the country than in the week preceding. That is the first week in more than two months that the increase has not been recorded, and there is thus some ground to hope that the tide has turned.

That the reduction in the dole had anything to do with the change is not suggested in the despatches, though the exact cause of the reduction has not been given. It is inferred that the public in the old lands are meeting the crisis in the same spirit as their political leaders, and are putting energy and resolution into the task of finding jobs and making them.

THE FAVORED ONES

Moyle and Allen, given up for a week and drowned in the North Pacific, were located in a remote Kamchatkan harbor. And now we learn that Johnnie Viega, long supposed to have been at the bottom of the Atlantic, have turned up aboard a Norwegian liner, safe and sound.

There is said to be a special providence in the case of these two men and their tools. Evidently the guardian angel has extended his jurisdiction to include trans-ocean hoppers. Or perhaps he just includes them in one of the regular categories.

The Cheat

By EDGAR A. GUEST

Ill-gotten gains have this about it still: The dismal knowledge that the work was ill, the secret which was known and must remain secret, the secret which the clever cheat, Crown undeserved, are never worn for long, Wm. gains a prize worth keeping must stay strong.

Once in a contest all unseen a youth streaking high gaily fell away from truth;

Casted by the hand of the heat and the pride.

And for a moment thought he was winning, wise,

But calm reflection troubled him at night.

There still remained stern challenges to fight.

Could he expect his time to relax?

Another chance, unused to cheat again?

Not quite so trusting might the heat man, be.

He had a secret, a secret he could not tell.

Forced in an open field, fate means to use,

His poorly-purchased title he would lose.

The boy grew wiser. On his heels they pressed,

Strong men and clever, eager for the test.

And day by day and night in sight fear less

And strength gained, in breaking the bones and

And lacking strength in honor to compete.

He lost the crown the day he couldn't cheat.

He lost the game, he lost the race.

Famed Soldier Lauds Honesty and Integrity of British People

Canadian Press Cable
YORK, England, Sept. 28—General Jan Christian Smuts, distinguished South African soldier and statesman who is here to speak at a centenary meeting of the British Association, brought a message of ringing encouragement to the British nation when he referred to the freedom of York University.

Recent changes were largely due to the honesty and integrity of the British people, he said, and the country, with the burden while most of their competitors had in one way or another repudiated that post-war liability, had come to a breaking point and had come to a standstill.

"But if our country did not want to get on the slippery slope of inflation, with all its attendant social and political malady, it must not let the process of anti-inflation go too far. You are in a dangerous position if you do not have confidence," he concluded. "I would back you 100 per cent, but that's about as far as I can go."

RELIEF WORK PLANS GO TO CITY COUNCIL

Premier Brownlee Announces Uniform Conditions for Alberta

Uniform conditions for the operation of relief work in the cities and towns in the province are contained in a communication from Premier R. B. Brownlee to the Legislative Council on Monday night.

The Premier stated that the cabinet conference with representatives of the relief work in the province had recommended to the executive council of the province:

"A synopsis of these conditions follows:

50 PER CENT OF COST

The Dominion government will assume 50 per cent of the cost of relief work in the province 25 per cent of the balance, and the cities and towns the remaining 25 per cent.

The Dominion will pay only one-third of direct relief work in the province cities and towns out-of-pocket each.

No difference is to be made in the amount of relief work given by the cities and the married men, to the extent that if work cannot be obtained in the city, then men may be given direct relief.

ABORD TRANSIENTS

The Dominion government has agreed to absorb as many transients as possible in relief work in the Dominion, but will not pay more than 50 per cent of the cost of direct relief given to transients.

The Dominion government therefore proposes to submit to approval of the legislature:

To take additional men for protection, relief, and rehabilitation to apply in any remaining single men or transients. An estimate shall be made of the number of men required, there is no question as to their destination, namely, the city, all to be placed as transients, 25 per cent of their direct relief borne by the Dominion, and the remainder divided equally between the provinces and the city.

The maximum program of $350,000 relief work by the city has been approved by the Dominion government, and approved by the Dominion government, will be paid in the event the entire sum is not required later.

CLAUSE OF AGREEMENT

The clause of the agreement between the province and the Dominion government provides that the payment and contract for relief work reads:

"A maximum work day of eight hours shall prevail on work and understandings carried on under this agreement as to maximum of the requirements. It is to be understood that the rates of wages shall be paid by the province and municipalities but not rates of wages shall be paid by the Dominion government, and the rates required to be paid by the Federal government, and the rates of wages in each class of work in the district. Only goods and materials of Canadian manufacture or of Canadian origin shall be used; contracts shall be let only to bona fide contractors, and the firms shall be paid for services rendered in Canada prior to January 1, 1931; and other provisions, including the provisions of clauses 7, 9, 10 and 11 herein, not less than forty per cent of the original expense of the labor unless a modification of this requirement is previously agreed to by the minister of labour."

Police Warn Residents To Lock Houses

With burglars here in many parts of the city, citizens are being advised to lock their houses, particularly at night.

Three residences were broken into over the weekend, thieves having gained entrance through doors which had been left unlocked or insecurely fastened.

"Before retiring for the night residents are advised to close all windows and also the doors and windows of garages. If windows are locked secure them," stated George H. McLean, police president who police persons throughout the premises in a newspaper.

"Automobile owners should take care to lock garage doors and windows and to keep their garages private garages have been reported to police during the past few weeks.

ESKIMOS LOSE TO CALGARY; JUNIOR ESKS WIN OVER VARSITY

TIGERS DOWN
LOCAL SENIOR
TEAM BY 4-0

Second Defeat by Close
Margin for Eoks
This Season

BY BILL LEWIS

Bulletin Sports Editor

CALGARY Sept. 28—Hurling back Cliff Shuttleworth's massive Eskimos after the Edmonton team had trampled them into the ground with a smashing wine-line attack in the opening quarter, Calgary Altomah—Tigers fought through to their second straight triumph of the 1931 Alberta Rugby Football Union season at Hillhurst Park here Saturday, winning by the close score of 4 to 0.

It was the second narrow margin within the last eight days for the belting Bengals over the Eskimos and it has been a make or break most bitter struggle that has been seen on a Calgary gridiron in recent years.

Beaten 4-2 in the opening game of the fall campaign at home the previous Saturday, the Tigers were given the great start of this second encounter with the titholders but could not hold off the Eskimos who, though the air and were defeated by the machine.

A crowd that numbered upwards of 2,500 fans turned out in brilliant autumn weather to witness the action of the football season in the one-time cowtown and when they were leaving there was never the threat of a major score on any even number.

GREAT AERIAL DISPLAY.

Despite the small number of seating opportunities for both teams, the big crowd was well satisfied with the effort as the opposing squads unleashed all their might to make a game as much as a wide-open spectacle than that which opened the season in Edmonton.

The forward pass was given a great work-up by the two clubs and each side had two or three passes to carry the play down the white-painted gridiron.

Two-pointed passes to the center were completed by the Eskimos while the Canadians made good on four of their passes. The Eskimos, however, made the first successful forward flip of the season when George Matheson hit from the 10-yard line to Ivan Smith for a gain of 15 yards. This was followed by another for the other successful Eskimo attempt in the first quarter which was good for two points.

HEART-BREAKER.

Individually, another Smith-to-Woods connection came shortly after the completion of their second was called home as a cross-diamond break up an effective drive might have meant much to the Eoks. This time was a howler as the ball was fumbled by one of the officials ruled that Woods had caught the ball over the line of touch and for this he was called a foul.

The big play, however, was made by the Eskimos in the second half, but not the way Joe Pryke, Prince Rumpo and the rest of the gang had planned it. The opening 18-hole round of the Edmonton Open championship was a complete success, with the titillating goal to knock "old man" Fury out of the Canadian Club and turn over a scratch card of 69 that beat par figures by a master of four strokes.

It is a perfect record that has not been equalled here in so long, golfing moons and should be good enough to earn Joe the title of champion. The rest of the officials ruled that Woods had a good shot but not the best in the final round next Sunday.

While speaking of scoring opportunities, can we ever forget the great showing of the Canadian Nationals, who tied up the trophy for the Canadian Open championship Saturday, securing a last-minute 20-0 victory

New Trial Being Sought for Abe King

TWO ESCAPE INJURIES IN AUTO CRASH

No Serious Street Accidents Reported in City Over Week-end

Two serious automobile crashes were reported to police over the weekend—street accidents all being of a minor nature, none involving any damage to the principals according to reports available at city police headquarters.

The first accident occurred Saturday when a car driven west on Jasper avenue by David Gundersen, of the Bank of Commerce, struck a man who had struck the street railway platform at the corner of Jasper and 123rd Street. The force of the impact turned the car over on its top, but the driver, David Gundersen, and passenger, Miss Jessie Howes, University Campus, were hurt.

The second accident involved damage to the extent of a smashed windshield and two windows on the right side, a broken headlight and some cracked fenders. Pedestrians aided Gundersen to safety.

PERFECT PROFILE

If there's a more lovely profile in all Yugoslavia, judges in a recent nation-wide contest didn't find it. Miss Marie Karić, who has the profile, received a $500 award in competition with more than 4,000 other women. She is a stenographer. The contest was held to find a profile to be painted on the drop curtain of the new Serbian National Theater.

A MUSEMENTS

CAPITOL

Clark Gable, whose outstanding performances in "A Free Soul," "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty" and "It Happened One Night" recently launched him as one of the outstanding players of the screen, triumphed in his first starring role in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's filmization of P.G. Wodehouse's Saturday Evening Post story.

In the new picture, which opened yesterday evening, he appears as a man who finds love in a woman he has never seen before, and who, in the end, makes a renitent the girl he has been pursuing.

Mrs. O. B. Mylson reported to the police that while driving her car down Jasper Avenue on Sunday, the car suddenly went out of control, somersaulted the box. Two other cars machine-wheeled on the sidewalk. Several planks in the walk were broken.

EMPRESS

The old "Cafe del Poeta" in 24th Street, New York, has again replaced by a skyscraper, will live again in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Great Lover" with Astor and Menjou, which will open today at the Empress.

Cafe del Pezzo, an Italian restaurant, for years was the greatest rendezvous in New York, and can be found anywhere in all the world.

STAND

Menjou, a famous comedian, made for major romps from continual tribulations in a campaign and political career, will be the chief attraction leaves nothing to be desired in the way of realism and the deep sea drama of the picture.

He is a man who has human and exciting moments. Under the direction of George Cukor, the production leaves nothing to be desired in the way of realism and the deep sea drama of the picture.

Al Menjou and Ida Lupino, grand comedians, appear on the stage every evening at 8:30 p.m.

Herb Shrill, a popular radio favorite, will appear on the stage with the orchestra, singing the Kaufman and Hart songs, "I'm a Little Bit Blue" and "Old Man River." Miss Helen Shirlaw will also appear in a tap dancing act.

FRIENDS WILL BRING FORWARD NEW EVIDENCE

Claim Convicted Man Has Been Victim of Miscarriage of Justice

Claiming that new evidence will show that Abe King, whose sentence of five years was handed last week by the Appellate Court, has been the victim of a miscarriage of justice, friends of the accused man are now working for a new trial and state that evidence which has not been adduced will show that the story of the accused was correct, and that he did not commit the offense, the killing and uttering of which he was convicted.

Claiming that the trial it was stated, that the endorsement of the name Tuttle on the back of the check, which had been forged, was forged, and that it had been in the handwriting of King, the defense will prove that there was no such person as Tuttle.

READY TO TESTIFY

It is now stated by King's friends that they will bring forward new evidence, using the name Tuttle, to come forward and give his evidence that he would not have signed there was no raising of the check or that he would not have endorsed the check. The new witness is willing to swear that the signature on the back of the check is in his own handwriting and that the story told by King is correct.

It is now stated that the man who actually forged the check, and forged it to come forward during the trial but feared that he would himself be sentenced to prison for life.

The father accused his son of stealing his automobile. Conviction mandatorily send young Fertile to prison for life as a first offender.

King's friends say that he has three fellow convicts against him on the sidewalk. Several planks in the walk were broken.

Mrs. O. B. Mylson reported to the police that while driving her car down Jasper Avenue on Sunday, the car suddenly went out of control, somersaulted the box. Two other cars machine-wheeled on the sidewalk. Several planks in the walk were broken.
